How do you determine if it is a common error or a case by case issue? As you can see below I have tried three different ways of writing the code. For each example I just add a line to see if the error will occur. First example is a bare minimum example. Second and third example shows the issue. #include #include #include #include #include std::stringstream ss; int main() { int i = 0; int x = 30; int y = 15; int z = 15; int a; double b = (double)x / (double)y / (double)z; int bb; std::string v; ss 3e33713323
